

Letter 399a
Nuenen, 9 April 1885

[Postcard to Anton Kerssemakers]

Dear Sir,

I am not sure whether I shall be able to come and paint next Saturday. Because I am making some studies of the planting of potatoes here, on which I shall perhaps be obliged to go on working on the day in question.

But if not on Saturday, I shall certainly come next Monday – unless I hear from you to the contrary.

Sincerely, Vincent
